

Essays on King Lear

How far do you agree that Lear is 'a man more sinned against than sinning'?

How far do you agree that divine justice is served in the play?

How far do you agree that King Lear is essentially about the downfall of tragic hero as a result of pride?

In what ways can the audience have sympathy for Edmund?